ABOUT THE TGCA LTD

The TGCA (Traditional Gypsy Cob Association) Ltd is the body approved by DEFRA to hold the Mother Studbook for Traditional Gypsy Cobs (TGCs) and as a Passport Issuing Office (PIO) in the UK and European Union. THE JUDGING OF SHOWING CLASSES

For Ridden and In Hand Breed Classes, cobs are to be judged primarily on their breed type, conformation and movement.

IN HAND BREED CLASSES

In Hand and Young stock Classes including Qualifiers: Exhibits enter the ring individually and perform a FLASH (high energy trot) to cover at least 2 sides of the ring/arena.

NB: The term FLASHING is used to exhibit the TGC In Hand. Upon the Steward's command, handlers will be asked to go forward with their TGC in a high energy fast trot on a loose rein to cover at least 2 sides of the arena.

Once all exhibits have performed the initial flash they will continue to walk around the arena until they are pulled into the line-up by the steward. Exhibits will be required to be stood up in front of the judge individually for their inspection. Exhibits on request should walk away from the judge, turn on the right rein and trot straight back towards and past the judge in a straight line before walking to retake their place in the line-up.

In hand classes will be judged: 60% correctness to type, conformation and movement, 40% manners and way of going.

RIDDEN CLASSES

TGC's are to perform an individual show. They will not be ridden by the judge or the 'judge's representative. When a TGC appears before the judge in two classes at the same show, the exhibit must be assessed as a separate exhibit in each class. In all ridden classes the fall of horse or rider will result in elimination from that class and they must then leave the ring dismounted.

Ridden Classes, including Qualifiers. Exhibits will enter the ring together and perform the go round as per the judge/stewards instructions. Exhibits will then all be pulled into the line-up by the steward/judge and each asked to perform an individual display not lasting longer than 1&1/2 minutes. The display should include walk, trot and canter on both reins, change of rein, halt and stand and also if required by the judge a lengthening of stride or gallop.

Ridden Breed Classes will be judged 60% correctness to type, conformation and movement 40% ride, manners, and way of going and overall presentation.

Junior Ridden Finals Classes will be judged: 60% ride, manners, temperament, partnership and suitability, 40% correctness to type, conformation, movement and overall presentation.

Workers Classes will be judged: Phase 1: Jumping – 50% jumping and 20% style when jumping. Phase 2: 30% conformation, correctness to type, manners and overall presentation during show. Penalties are:

knock down of fence 10 points, first refusal 15 points, and 2nd refusal 20 points and 3rd refusal exhibit will be eliminated. All exhibits unless eliminated in phase 1 must come forward for phase 2. Exhibits will perform an individual show and be judged for conformation in phase 2. Plain boots are allowed to be used in phase 1 but MUST be removed before phase 2. Should there be a tie in marks between exhibits then the marks from phase 1 will take precedence, followed by the marks from phase 2. If there is still a tie then the judge's decision will be final.

Qualification of such animals means that they will represent the breed at the National Show Traditional of the Year Show (TOYS)

New Judges must attend the TGCA Judges Conference in their first year, and at least every three years thereafter. Judges must fully understand how to apply the TOYS qualifications

All appointments for the judging of TGCA classes/shows must be adhered to. If for any reason this is not possible it is that judge's responsibility to contact both the show secretary and the TGCA judge coordinator to find a replacement judge. A mobile phone should be carried on the day in case of emergency but MUST not be carried in the ring.

Smart sensible clothing must be worn by all judges with wet weather clothing in case of inclement weather.

Judges MUST NOT charge a fee for judging at any time. However judges are entitled to have expenses reimbursed which should be agreed (including the mileage rate) with the show secretary in advance of the show.

Any newly appointed judges are to make themselves available to undertake stewarding duties at the TGCA National Championship Show (TOYS) for the year in which they have been appointed.

Where mark sheets are used then under no circumstances should any changes be made to any marks given to any exhibit. Should the steward have misheard and written the wrong score on the mark sheet, then the score must be corrected and both the steward and judge initial the mark sheet next to the amended score.

All Judges will be courteous and diplomatic to competitors and stewards at all times throughout judging.

It is expected that Judges help, advise and encourage novice owners/handlers new to the show ring. TGCA shows attract many novice handlers who have little or no understanding of what is required. Support, encouragement and advice will ensure we have repeated entries from all competitors.

It is suggested that a minimum of tactile judging is to be used to reduce the possibility of passing infection and for health and safety reasons.

A judge must not judge and compete in any class on the same day at any show except for the TGCA National Championship Show (TOYS).

No judge should judge an exhibit that they have bred/owned/leased/loaned. Where a judge has produced/shown or received any financial gain from an exhibit then this must be at least 12 months prior to the date of the show. Ancillary services such as stud fees and or group teachings are exempt.

The breed temperament is of a calm, kind disposition. Bad manners and ill-tempered horses should be asked to leave the ring. If a stallion is showing unruly tendencies including bad handling then they must leave the ring. There are to be NO exceptions to this rule whatsoever. Advice after the class if sought should be encouraged, so we can help improve handlers and their horses showing practices for the future

In any cases of bad behaviour in ridden or in-hand classes where other competitors or animals are at risk, the steward may be directed to ask the exhibitor to leave the ring. Stallions should have no exception made for them and handlers must be in control at all times.

PROSPECTIVE JUDGES

The TGCA operates a scheme for prospective judges. Applicants must be over 25, be a fully paid up member of the TGCA and apply in writing with a CV giving details of their experience and knowledge. Following this, the applicant will be invited for an assessment and interview.

Should the applicant be successful at the assessment day then they will be put on the Judges panel at whatever level the assessors decide. Should the assessors decide that the applicant would benefit from a probationary period then please see section below on probationary judges.

Any applicant that fails to be appointed is free to re-apply the following year.

PROBATIONARY JUDGES

Probationary judges must attend the TGCA Judges Conference.

Probationary judges MUST judge at least 4 shows the following year with 4 different senior panel judges.

It is the probationary judge's responsibility to arrange the appointments with the senior panel judges, show secretaries and the TGCA judges co-ordinator.

Probationary judges MUST inform the senior panel judge if there are any exhibits in the class that they have any interest in, they then MUST NOT judge said exhibit.

On completion of each judging appointment each senior panel judge will be required to complete a report on the probationary judge and return this to the judge co-ordinator within 14 days of the show.

If at the end of those 4 probationary judging appointment the TGCA feel the probationary judge is ready, they will be put onto the TGCA judges panel at whatever level the TGCA decides.

Probationary judges must not claim any expenses.

All probationary judges are to make themselves available to undertake stewarding duties at the TGCA National Championship Show (TOYS) for the year they are on probation.

JUDGES IN HAND AND RIDDEN PROCEDURE

Where the class is an in-hand class only, all exhibits will be required to walk into the arena individually.

On command from the ring steward the individual horse will be required to 'FLASH'

The term "FLASHING" is used to exhibit cobs. On entry to the ring the steward will ask the animal to wait. On the steward's command, the horse will be asked to go forward in a high energy fast trot on a loose rein to cover at least 2 sides of the arena. On completion of the individual "FLASH" the horse will be required to join the last entered horse at a safe distance.

It is noted that for H&S issues strict attention has to be displayed by both judge and steward and discretion used if it is deemed unsafe for an individual or horse to participate for any length of time or distance.

Caution and awareness on allowing plenty of space between horses, is advised due to the excitability this may initiate.

On completion all exhibits will continue again in walk and will be requested to line up. The decision to pull an initial line-up or not is at the discretion of the judge.

If there is no pull, the steward may randomly select one exhibit to start the line-up and all other exhibits should follow in their initial order.

Each competitor will then be requested to present their horse/pony in front of the judge for conformation inspection.

The animal will then be walked away from the judge and then trotted straight back towards and past the judge returning to the line-up.

Where the class is a ridden class only.

All exhibits will be asked to walk into the arena on the right rein.

Upon instruction from the judge/steward exhibits will be asked to trot, canter and change the rein.

The steward may then ask an appropriate exhibit to gallop or lengthen their stride along the ring side directly in front of the judge, all exhibits must follow on (exhibits may circle prior to gallop in find safe space). After the gallop or lengthening of stride all exhibitors must return to walk.

Should the class be large or the ring small, it may not be practical for all exhibits to perform the go round together. The judge may request the class be split with half the class standing in the centre of the ring whilst the other half performs the go round. Once completed, the group of exhibits should swap and the go round be repeated for the other group.

It is then the judges' decision to pull an initial line up, should they not want to pull an initial line up the steward will select an exhibit to start the line up with all other exhibits following on.

If there are both conformation and ride judges they will then start their individual judging duties.

The ridden assessment will start at the top of the line-up and once the exhibit has performed its display then it will be judged for conformation. At no time should any exhibit be judged for conformation before it has performed its ridden show.

Time should be allowed for grooms to enter the ring to enable the removal of the saddle once exhibits have performed the go round and have been lined up.

Individual ridden shows will consist of walk, trot and canter on both reins, and if appropriate a gallop or lengthening of stride. A judge can ask for a set show and if this is the case stewards must make ALL exhibitors aware of the set show.

On completion of all exhibits, if a marks sheet exists, marks will be totalled. If there is no marks sheet in use, the judge should indicate to the steward the order of placing which should be completed on the class sheet and the exhibits pulled forward in placing order.

When all prizes have been awarded, the judge will thank all exhibits and ask the un-placed exhibits to leave the ring, and the successful exhibits to perform a lap of honour - which will be conducted in a safe and orderly fashion, but allowing the breed to demonstrate its active powerful action.

Only evaluated stallions are eligible to compete in any TGCA class. They MUST have the TGCA Stallion bridle disc on display on the offside of their bridle.

Judges are reminded that the carrying of excess weight by any exhibit is not good for the joints or breathing of any horse or pony; and in the interests of our horses and ponies we do not promote the showing of over-fat exhibits. Judges are permitted to penalise any such exhibit in their marking.

For exhibits under 148cms, rider should be of a suitable size and weight for their mount.

In the case of young stock a judge may ask the handler to gently pull the lips back to show the horses teeth if they are able to do so comfortably and safely.

TOYS QUALIFICATION CARDS

The judge must sign the qualification card specific to that exhibit whilst in the ring and against the appropriate category/categories.

Cards may NOT be brought into the ring once any class has started, NOR may they be signed outside the ring.

For non-members, qualification cards are provided for the Judge to sign and hand out in the ring.

Qualification cards MAY NOT be given or signed where the stallion is not wearing the TGCA stallion disc.

JUDGES INSURANCE

All current, fully paid-up TGCA Panel Judges will be covered by the TGCA Insurance Policy whilst performing TGCA judging duties for the period of their membership. It is advisable that judges also hold their own accident and personal insurance to cover them for such activity.

STEWARDS RULES AND GUIDELINES

Anyone who would like to undertake any stewarding duties should contact TGCA Admin or TGCA Judges Administrator.

Stewards should carry a copy of this handbook and make themselves aware of TGCA rules and qualifications.

Stewards should carry with them a spare pencil/pen.

It is the responsibility of the ring steward to ensure that all stallions entering TGCA affiliated classes have their valid stallion disc present in the ring. Only evaluated TGCA stallions are allowed to compete in TGCA classes.

Stewards should be polite at all times to both their judges and to competitors.

Stewards will, when requested by the judge, instruct competitors as to what they are required to do.

For ridden classes they will instruct them when a change of rein or a change of gait is required.

In-hand classes they will instruct them when to perform the initial trot up/flash. For both classes they will instruct competitors when and how to form the line-up.

Stewards should not stand in a way which obstructs the Judge's view.

Ring stewards are responsible for having the awards ready for the judge to present in the correct order on completion of the class and record the class placings.

Where a class is to be judged using a mark sheet then it is the stewards' responsibility to ensure the marks are written correctly and when added together to decide class placings calculations must be double checked.

All results sheets must be returned to the show secretary by the steward, or where a runner has been officially appointed, to the runner on completion of the class.
